

With a background in finance and non-profit leadership, Nick brings his deep relationships in the region and experience in negotiation to the SVN Commercial Advisors team with a desire to position Willamette Valley businesses and investors within their highest potential for profitability.

Prior to transitioning to SVN Commercial Advisors, Nick served as Chief Executive Officer for the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce, the region's largest and most influential business association. It was during his tenure with the Salem Chamber that Nick worked on projects and policies relative to economic development and asset positioning.

Maintaining his strength in the local policy-making space, Nick is also a tireless advocate for economically viable policy through his service to the Public Policy Committee with the Salem Chamber, the Board of Directors and Outreach Committee for the Salem Main Street Association and the Government Affairs Committee with the Mid-Valley Association of Realtors. Nick understands that transportation infrastructure, development costs, and taxation are areas of significance, and these issues are critical in maintaining our region's competitive advantage.

In his time with SVN Commercial Advisors, Nick has abundant deal volume in the office, medical office, and industrial asset classes. Nick is CCIM (Certified Commercial Investment Manager) Candidate and plans to receive his designation in 2024.

Married to Theresa, the family boasts six kids, two grandchildren, 4 goats, and two dogs. In their spare time, Nick and his family enjoy hiking, time with their fitness community, serving at Life Church, working on their 5 acres in Polk County and boating the Willamette River.
